

United Methodist Volunteers In Mission North Carolina Conference Rebecca B. Maddox Scholarship

Application

As a member of Morris Chapel United Methodist Church, Rebecca B. Maddox gave of herself to many causes. However, furthering God's kingdom was of the utmost importance in her life. In her local church, she served in many capacities. As a United Methodist Youth Fellowship counselor and United Methodist Woman, she helped to sponsor countless yard sales, bake sales, and many other events to raise money that would enable the church to fund various projects, all having a missional focus. She faithfully served as the UMW president for many years and received the UMW of the year as well as the Layperson of the year awards on more than one occasion.

Becky heard the cry of the needy and answered God's call to help not only in the local church and community, but in places all over the world. She participated in her first United Methodist Volunteer-In-Mission team on July 1-11, 1986. She traveled to Dalvey, Jamaica with other United Methodists from across the North Carolina Conference to complete the construction of a Methodist Church that had been destroyed by Hurricane Gilbert. A major emphasis was also placed on conducting a Bible School for the children in the afternoons.

It was during these eleven days that Becky witnessed something she had never felt before. She realized first-hand what it was like to serve God completely through body, soul, and mind, and spirit.

Becky wanted to go again and again. Through "The Rebecca B. Maddox Memorial United Methodist Volunteer-In-Mission Scholarship Fund", administered by the United Methodist Women of Morris Chapel UMC, she will be going again and again. It is our hope and prayer that countless others will be richly blessed by this endeavor.

Upon their return, recipients of the scholarship are expected to share their experience with the Morris Chapel UMW at their next regularly scheduled meeting. Scholarships will not exceed $200.00.
